Ray Courtwright, about 60, of Sugar Grove, Pa. (Which is half a dozen miles east of Cameron) was left sitting on the front porch of the Rock Lick Tavern when that place closed up at midnight Monday.

Tuesday morning at nine he was found dead there, but at the foot of the front steps. Coroner Wood and County Investigator Sheperd investigated found he died of a fractured skull. They are still studying the case, but apparently have not yet come up with any indication of foul play, said there was no robbery evident.

Couple Takes Vows Sunday Afternoon

Miss Barbara J. Henderson of 745 N. Walnut Ave., and Donald R. Courtwright of 743 N. Walnut Ave., were united in marriage at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the altar in First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. John V. Stephens, Jr., pastor, officiated as the bride's uncle, Edward Millward of East Liverpool, gave her in marriage. A program of organ selections was played by Miss Patricia Campbell. Cut flowers decorated the altar.

The bride was costumed in a wedgewood blue knit suit with which she wore a white hat, a strand of pearls with matching earrings and bracelet, and carried white carnations on a white Bible.

Miss Rosann Butler was her maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a brown knit suit with a white hat and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Russell Reeder Jr. of Kensington served as best man. The ushers were Robert Webb Jr. and Richard Henderson.

Reception in Hall

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Henderson wore a burgundy knit suit with black accessories and a corsage of white pompons. Mrs. Glenn Marshall of Hanoverton, sister of the bridegroom was in a gray suit with a white pompon corsage.

A reception followed in the church's Eastminster Hall where the pink and white decorated refreshment table was centered in a three tiered wedding cake. Members of the Weaver Bible Class were in charge.

Out of town guests came from Cameron, W Va., East Liverpool, Kensington, Salineville and Hanoverton.

After a week's honeymoon as guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Falls of Hickory, N. C., the couple will reside at 743 1/2 N. Walnut Ave. The bride's traveling costume was a black sheath dress with white trim.

Notes for SUANN "MARY ALICE COURTWRIGHT" DULANEY:
SUANN DULANEY

Suann was born "Mary Alice Courtwright" to Ray and Leatha Hartley Courtwright. Her mother died when she was five weeks old and she was placed in the Children's Home in Waynesburg, Pa., along with her youngest brothers.

In June of 1942 she was adopted by Hiram B. and Inez Tustin Dulaney, of Waynesburg, and her name was changed to Suann Dulaney. She was raised as an only child.

Suann knew from an early age that she had been adopted. In 1974 she learned the names of her natural parents. In 1982 she decided to look into the possibility of finding her family. She looked in the local phone book and found the name of an Edith Courtwright, called her and found that she had been married to her father's brother. After arranging to meet her that afternoon, we drove out toward the community of Wind Ridge, about 20 miles west of Waynesburg. Not being able to find the place, we stopped at the Post Office to ask directions. Suann went in, and when she came out about fifteen minutes later she told me the following: "I went in and told the postmaster that we were looking for directions to Edith Courtwright's. I told him that we were trying to find my family, and showed him a copy of my birth certificate. He looked at it, then at me, and said 'My goodness, you do look like Sadie.' I asked who Sadie was, and he said it was my sister."

The postmaster's name was Roger Courtwright, and his father had been a brother of Ray Courtwright, so he was Suann's cousin. He was the first member of her family that she met. He was really excited that after all the years that they had come together, so he invited us to his home that evening. We went to visit Edith Courtwright and her daughter, and then returned home.

Later that evening we went to Wind Ridge again, this time to Roger's house. We met his wife, Blanche, and several of their children. Roger had been busy since he had met Suann. He had contacted one sister, Sadie, and told her of the events of the day. While we were visiting, the phone rang, and on the other end was another sister, Betty Lou---the first member of her own family that Suann was to talk to. That was an emotional evening for all of us. Betty told Suann that they would be coming to Cameron, WV, for a reunion of her husband's family on Sunday. Betty and Sadie had married two Marshall brothers, from the Cameron area, but they had moved to the Alliance, Ohio area to live. She invited Suann to come also. As the evening progressed, Roger showed us some photos and told us a little about the family. Suann was overwhelmed, to say the least. Roger had done a good job.

The Sunday afternoon following was one that Suann will never forget. We went to a little roadside park, just outside Cameron, WV., about thirty miles from Waynesburg. It was a beautiful summer afternoon. We entered the park and at the first shelter asked for directions to the Marshall reunion. We went on back to the next picnic area, and inquired again, but were told that the people we wanted to see were back at the first area, waiting for their sister. We returned to the first place, and when we got out of the truck, the people there had figured out that from our being strange to them and by our license plates that we must be who they were waiting for. There was Sadie, her husband Glenn and their children with several wives and several grandchildren; Betty, her husband Paul and their three kids and a grandchild; and a brother, Donald, his wife Barb and their four children. Several of the older children also had their future wives with them. All in all there were about thirty five people at this grand reunion. It was a time of getting to know each other, and to swap stories about families, and of the circumstances of how Suann got adopted. Needless to say, a good time was had by all.

A little later that fall, Suann and I traveled to Chambersburg, Pa., to visit her oldest sister, Gerry, who had married Bill Schaefer, also from the Cameron area. Bill had been a career military man. He had retired after 25 years, and got a job as a security guard at Shippensburg, Pa., College, a short distance from Chambersburg. While there we met their three children and two of their grandchildren. We spent an enjoyable time with everyone.

Since that time Suann has been able to meet all of the living relatives of both her mother and father's families. It has been a memorable time for both of us, traveling to new places and meeting new people. Suann has been privileged to not only have had only one family, but two.

Notes for LOUIS AARON DOUTT:

LOUIS AARON DOUTT

I was born at 11:42 a. m., January 28, 1939, in East Liverpol City Hospital, Columbiana County, Ohio. Dr. William J. Horger was the attending doctor. My parents were living at 628 Midland Ave., Midland, Beaver County, PA. , at the time. My dad had been working for A. b. Patsch at his garage in Midland for 3 years at the time. My mother had been a housewife for 1 1/2 years. [Information from my birth certificate.]

I was raised in Ohio Twp., (now Ohioville Boro) Beaver Co., PA., about three miles north of Midland. I attended grade school at Forest Hills, a one room school house. There were eight grades during my first year, but only six thereafter. Teachers were Miss Dorothy Brdar, Ralph McMillen, Miss Margaret Tait, and Mrs. John (Alberta) Gregor. We had no electricity or indoor plumbing when I started, but we did get electricity before I left. The school was situated on top of a hill on the Lucas farm. Everyone walked to school in those days, and I am not that old now as to called an old-timer. My Dad would cut a trail through the woods behind our house, & we would walk it to the creek, cross over, up the state game commission road, then cut across the Sportsmen's club property, to Frank Doughty's house, then up the hill to the school. When the weather really got bad, my Dad would take us. There were no "snow" days then. You either got to school, or you didn't.

I attended junior-senior high school at Midland (Lincoln High School) graduating in 1956. I was a member of the choir, the National Honor Society, was in the senior class play "The Nutt Family', and for two years alternated playing the organ for morning devotions.

Shortly after graduation I began working for Gabriel "Gabe" Csiszar at his electric shop in Midland, as a bookkeeper/clerk. Csiszar sold appliances, radios, TVs., etc. I learned some minor reairs, and learned to drive in Pittsburgh's traffic by picking up parts and supplies for the store.

In the fall of 1958 I started attending Geneva College in Beaver Falls, PA., and also began to work for A. B. Patsch at his garage in Midland, PA, where my Dad also worked. This was an ideal situation, for on my way home from school I could stop and get parts for the garage. I also started my career in the auto parts field. After leaving college for full time work, I worked in the parts department during the day, and I also drove to Pittsburgh to pick up parts once a week.

During this time I met Suann Dulaney, from Waynesburg, PA. We were married in November of 1959, and went to housekeeping in a little cottage owned by my Uncle Paul Rice. In the spring of 1960, Suann and I moved to Waynesburg, where Suann had grown up, and I started working for Herman Hirsh (Herman Supply Co.). I worked in Waynesburg for two years as clerk, picking up parts in Pittsburgh again, then as a road salesman, before being transferred to his branch store in nearby Carmichaels. We moved to Carmichaels in 1963, to 378 Ceylon Road, the first home of our own.

In 1965 I wanted to work at a larger store, so we moved back to Midland, and I started work at Paul Craven's auto parts in East Liverpool, Ohio. I worked there for a year and a half, and decided to find a job closer to home. I worked at Doty Chevrolet-Olds for about another year, this time as parts manager. I left when the owner, Joe Paradiso, had to give up the business for health reasons.

Back I went to Craven's store in East Liverpool. We moved to 1126 Jennings Ave. in 1967, to a house formerly owned by Mr. Craven. It was situated on a hill overlooking the town, and with a pretty view of the Ohio River. We could see and hear the boats travelling up and down the river. Mr. Craven sold his business to Pennsy Auto Parts in 1969, left the business, and his son-in law Tom White took over. He stayed for two years and left, and I became the manager. This was an interesting and challenging job, as we had about twenty employees, from parts counter men, machine shop personnel, two road salesmen, shippers/drivers, and the office people. This was before we had computers. We had a card file for inventory control, and had to handwrite orders, handpost receipts and sales. Very time consuming. It was a large store, and had many service stations and garages as customers. To better serve them, I had a special section built in the shipping department, with it's own staff and telephone line. They could call in their order and come and pick it up without waiting in line in the regular section of the store. We also made deliveries to businesses after our sales people called on them during the week. It was a taxing time, and in 1974 I became stressed out, and had to leave.

Next I started to work as a manager trainee for the K-Mart auto service section of the K-Mart store at Weirton, WV., driving daily. In the spring of 1975 I was assigned to a new store just opening in Parkersburg, WV., as manager of the automotive department. We moved to Belpre, Ohio, a small town just across the Ohio River from Parkersburg. I stayed there until a position came open in our Washington, PA., store.

We moved back to Waynesburg in September of 1977. I drove to Washington each day, but the drive was relaxing after a hectic day's work. During the year of 1980 both of my parents passed away, and Suann and I moved into the family home in Midland to take care of my retarded brother, and to help settle the estate. I transferred to the K-Mart in nearby Calcutta, Ohio. I stayed there until the decision by K-Mart to change the management of the auto and sporting departments. Most automotive managers were relegated to the service departments, while the sporting goods managers got the auto sales floor added to their duties. This was the start of the downswing of the auto service department phase of K-Mart, as within several years most departments were closed in our area. I was one of many auto managers who did not agree with this move, so I left their employ.

In 1981, with my brother placed in a home in Rochester, PA., and the estate settlement moving along, we moved back to Waynesburg. I found a job as a service station attendant at a Boron service station, recently taken over by John McCollum. He had worked for a Firestone auto service store for 14 years, and had come across the same situation as I had experienced. I gradually started to work in the service bays, and then got my state inspection license and did mechanical repairs for several years. We worked well together, but I didn't like the 'grease and grime', so in the summer of 1988 I went to work briefly for Ross Auto Parts, in Waynesburg, but in December of 1988 I started to work as parts manager at John Howard Chrysler/Plymouth, also in Waynesburg. After a year and a half, I went to work for Pioneer VW/Mazda/Dodge in Washington, PA. But they ran into financial difficulty, and I decided to go back to Waynesburg, and John Howard's dealership. In Nov. of 1991 I started back to work, and stayed there until I retired in June 2003. By that time we had grown into a major auto/truck dealership in the tri-state area. Mr. Howard made several changes during that time, one of which involved moving the parts department from the main floor, to another newly remodeled part of the garage. This we accomplished with the help of my staff, without having to close the parts department for any time.

I stayed retired for two years, but in early 2005 I went to work at our local Giant Eagle grocery store, working overnight helping to unload trucks and stock the shelves. I ended my stay there doing the floor cleaning. After three months, I sent my resume's to two local auto parts stores, and was hired by Autozone as a parts counter man. I worked different shifts and holidays. But, after only several months I was approached by a partner in the Hinerman NAPA store about working there. I tried it for a week, and gave my manager at Autozone my resignation. It has been a good move, as the owners at NAPA have been very considerate to me. I have some personal health issues, sickness in the family, and have been able to work there for the past seven years [as of 2012]. I enjoy the work and working with the staff and customers.

I have enjoyed most of my career, and am looking forward to the time when I can move on to my major hobby, Genealogy.

THE 'BIG SNOW' OF 1950

The weekend snow that followed Thanksgiving in 1950 was one many of us will always call the "big one". But for myself, it had a strange twist. The Friday after Thanksgiving started out as usual. My parents went to town for the weekly shopping trip that morning, a day early as there was no school, and I can remember we stopped at the shoe store. It started snowing before we got home, and the snow picked up as the day progressed. My Dad, who worked evenings at a parts store/garage in Midland, about three miles away, went to work early. The snow continued to come down. About six o'clock in the evening there was a knock on our door, and my mother opened it to a very worn-out stranger. The poor fellow was about all in, from walking in all the snow, and asked to use our telephone to call a storekeeper near where he lived, to tell her that he was on his way home and if his family came to get anything he would pay when he got there. (Now the storekeeper just happened to be my mother's sister.) My mother felt sorry for the man, and asked if he wanted to rest a while, and when he said yes, she rounded up some dry clothes for him, and some warm food, and as he was very tired let him get some sleep.

About ten 'clock that night my Dad came walking home, carrying two bags of groceries. There had been no car traffic for several hours now, and the snow continued to come down. By the next morning the only vehicle to go by was a farm tractor that was trying to make a path through the snow. About one o'clock that afternoon the stranger left, following the trail that the tractor had made, which was almost covered again. When the snow finally stopped a little later, we had thirty inches in our yard. Now, in 1950, we had no great force of snowplows in our state highway department, so we were stranded.

A little after noon on Sunday, a trucker who had a snowplow mounted on his truck, with a force of men with shovels following, came by our house, heading towards town. My Dad got his warm clothes and a shovel and joined them. My brother, Reed, and I started to dig our way out through our yard and to unbury our car and truck. It was no easy task, as the snow had been wet and heavy. But we worked until dark, doing as much as we could. As the men returned home from the snowplow detail, the man with the truck plowed a path in their driveways to get their cars out.

NOW THE REST OF THE STORY-----

During the evening when the stranger was resting, I happened to play the piano. Several months later the small country church he attended was in need of a pianist, and he told them of me. I started to play for them, and for about the next seven years I was their pianist, with the rest of my family starting to attend. After about five years, we had a change of pastors.

One Sunday evening in the fall of 1956, our new pastor's cousin, from Waynesburg, PA., came to visit with his wife and daughter. The young lady also played the piano, and since I played the accordion and had it with me, we played together that evening. Waynesburg is about 75 miles from Midland, a long way in the days before interstate highways. I started to exchange letters with the young lady, and in the spring of 1957 I traveled to Waynesburg for the first time, to visit that young lady and her family. NOW..... to make a long story short, in November of 1959 we were married....and that's the rest of the story.
